Coming towards the end of term I reflect on the busy and very productive term we have had. As a school, students have worked very hard to get through the work necessary as well as the many other events happening around the school. As the Principal I am very mindful of all the extracurricular events that we enter, limiting these events to ones that I know will benefit our children.

I also wish to make special mention of all students who received a "Caught Being Good" award this week. When completing the draw on Friday I was very pleasantly surprised at the amount of awards in the boxes. This is a direct result of the hard work each child is putting in. Well done.

There are lots of events happening over the next two weeks. Please keep an eye on the calendar and promptly return all notes that you receive.

P&C News

Last week we held a P&C Meeting in the Library. There was some healthy discussion about what to do to help fill the vacant positions in the executive, as well as what direction we as a school P&C should take. As nobody put their hand up to fill the positions on the executive the P&C is temporarily suspended.

In order to support our children, the parent group decided to form mini committees to help organise events and run different things around the school.

Peta Smith will be organising a BINGO Night.

I will be organising a School Disco.

Vanessa Clift will continue to manage the uniform shop.

We need as much help and input in this from all parents in the future. Please come along to help and support this great school.

We will be holding another parent meeting early next term to discuss progress of events and what else needs help.
