STRANGER DANGER

Last week there was an unfortunate incident at a local school. A young girl was approached by a man in a white car, asking her to get in. Please remind your child not to talk to anybody while they are walking home and to report any known incidents to the police.

P&C NEWS

Last week saw the P&C have their AGM and first meeting for 2013. Welcome to all new parents. In 2013 Peta Smith will be serving as President, with Bianca Gowie and Yvonne Denning as Vice Presidents. Shira-Lee Gardner is the new secretary and Suzanne McDonald returns as treasurer. If you have any suggestions or concerns, see one of these ladies and they can raise it at the next meeting.

READING AT HOME

As a parent or carer, you can help your child learn to read in many ways.

What's more, research shows that children whose families read together at home are much more likely to become successful, confident, independent readers.

Here are some general tips to get you started ...

Be a model reader – It is important that your child sees YOU reading books, newspapers, magazines and other materials on a regular basis.

Fill your house with books – Having lots of reading materials around helps your child to see how important and enjoyable reading is.

Join the local library – It's a great way to meet people, have fun and share books. Encourage your child to choose their own book – this will help to develop their individual interests.

Fun, enjoyable, rewarding, difficult, daunting, frustrating...
